Canada's Contention on the Headland Question Conceded.

Brief of U. S. Counsel—Claim to Behring Sea Maintained.

The Dominion Government has received through Mr. Drake, Q. C., of this city, the brief in reply to that gentleman's demurrer on behalf of the owners of the sealers seized in Behring sea. It is a most important document, and it is considered that the arguments and authorities used will prove most valuable in supporting the Canadian contention with regard to the Atlantic headlands question. In reference to this question, Mr. Delaney, counsel for the U. S. Government, makes the following admissions:

"The issue raised by the demurrer presents squarely the questions: 1. The jurisdiction of the United States over Behring Sea. 2. The power of Congress to legislate concerning those waters. The grave question, one important to all nations of the civilized world as well as the United States and Great Britain, is the dominion of Behring Sea. Concerning the doctrine of international law establishing what is known as the marine league belt, which extends the jurisdiction of a nation into adjacent seas for a distance of one marine league or three miles from its shores, and following all the indentations and sinuosities of its coast, there is at this day no room for discussion. It must be accepted as a settled law of nations. It is sustained by the highest authorities, law writers and jurists. It has been sanctioned by the United States since the foundation of the Government. It was affirmed by Jefferson, Secretary of State, in 1793, and reaffirmed by his successors—Pickering, in 1796, Madison in 1807, Webster in 1842, Buchanan in 1849, Seward in 1862-4, Fish in 1875, Evarts in 1879 and 1881, and Bayard in 1886. Sanctioned by an unbroken line of precedents covering the first century of our national existence, the United States would not abandon this doctrine if they could; they could not if they would.

Well grounded as is the doctrine of the law of nations,

IT IS NO MORE FIRMLY ESTABLISHED

as a part of the international code than that other principle which gives to a nation supremacy, jurisdiction and dominion over its own inland waters, gulfs, bays and seas. According to Vattel, in his law of nations, 'if a sea is entirely enclosed by the territories of a nation and has no other communication with the ocean than by a channel of which that nation may take possession, it appears that such a sea is no less capable of being occupied and becoming property than the land, and it ought to follow the fate of the country that surrouds it. The Mediterranean in former times was absolutely inclosed within the territories of the Romans; and that people, by rendering themselves masters of the strait which joins it to the ocean, might subject the Mediterranean to their empire and assume dominion over it. They did not by such proceeding injure the rights of other nations, a particular sea being manifestly designed by nature for the use of the countries and nations that surround it.' By Kent, vol. 1, page 28, it appears that while in 1826, the limit of the marine belt was unsettled,

THE JURISDICTION OF A STATE

over its inland waters are unquestioned." Manning's Law of Nations, page 120, and Wharton's International Law, vol. 1, section 31, are quoted to show that rivers and inland lakes and seas when contained in a particular State are subject to the Sovereign of such State. The brief proceeds: "Undoubtedly it is upon this principle of international law that our right to dominion over such vast inland waters as the great lakes, Boston harbor, Long Island Sound, Delaware and Chesapeake bays, Albemarle Sound and the Bay of San Francisco rests. By Kent's Com., vol 1, page 528, it appears that our Government asserted this doctrine in its infancy. It was announced by Jefferson, as Secretary of State, and by the Attorney-General in 1793. Secretary Pickering, in 1796, reaffirms it in this language: 'Our jurisdiction has been fixed to extend three geographical miles from our shores, with the exception of any waters or bays which are so land-locked as to be unquestionably within the jurisdiction of States, be their extent what they may.' Secretary Buchanan, in 1849, reiterates this rule in the following language: 'The exclusive jurisdiction of a nation extends to the ports, harbor, bays, mouths of rivers and adjacent parts of the sea enclosed by headlands.' Mr. Seward, in the Senate in 1852, substantially by declaring that, 'If we relied alone upon the old rule that only those bays whose entrance from headland to headland does not exceed six miles are within the territorial jurisdiction of the adjoining nation, our dominion to all the larger and more important arms of the sea on both our Atlantic and Pacific coasts would have to be surrendered. Our right to jurisdiction over these rests upon the rule of international law which gives a nation jurisdiction over waters embraced within its land dominion.' It thus appears that from our earliest history, contemporaneously with our acceptance of the marine league belt and supported by some high authorities, is the assertion of the doctrine of our right to dominion over our inland waters. Under the treaty of 1867 and this rule of international law we base our claim to jurisdiction and dominion over the waters of Behring's Sea. While it is no doubt true that a nation cannot by treaty acquire dominion in contravention of the law of nations, it is none the less true that whatever title or dominion our grantor, Russia, possessed under the law of nations at the time of the treaty of cession in 1867, passed and now rightfully belongs to the United States."

ENUNCIATES THE SAME DOCTRINE

HISTORICAL REVIEW OF RUSSIA'S OWNERSHIP.

The brief proceeds to give a historical review of Russia's ownership of Behring's Sea, including the famous claim of 1821 to exclusive jurisdiction. Both the United States and Great Britain protested against this ordinance, and the brief says:—"A critical examination of the diplomatic correspondence between the United States and Great Britain on one side and Russia upon the other will disclose that the points in dispute in the controversy were the assertion of Russia to exclusive jurisdiction over the Pacific ocean, the assertion of dominion over the coast of North America from the 55th parallel south to the 51st. By the treaties of 1824-25 between Russia and the United States and England respectively, Russia receded from her assertion of exclusive jurisdiction over the Pacific ocean and abandoned her claim to possessions on the coast of North America south of 54 degrees 40 minutes." Extracts from these treaties are then given, and the brief proceeds to point out that in them no reference is made to Russia's claim of dominion over Behring's Sea. "If in the diplomatic correspondence leading up to the treaty any challenge as to the jurisdiction of Behring's Sea had been made, why was it not settled in the treaties? It cannot be successfully maintained that by such terms as the 'great ocean,' 'Pacific ocean,' or 'South sea,' the high contracting parties referred to Behring's Sea. Aside from this, it is stipulated in both treaties that ships, citizens and subjects of either power may reciprocally frequent the interior seas, gulfs, harbors and creeks of the other on the North American coast for a period of ten years.

THE ONLY INTERIOR SEA

on the North American coast was Behring's Sea held by Russia. If that was a part of the Pacific Ocean, or the great ocean, or the South Sea, or belonged to the high seas under the law of nations, why the term, 'interior sea'? And why should the United States and Great Britain accept a ten years' limit of the right of navigation, fishing and trading in an interior sea if they had the unconditional right to frequent those waters under the law of nations? Section 4 of the treaty, therefore, really concedes Russia's dominion over Behring's Sea. A summary of the results following the discussions and conventions as to the royal ordinance of 1821, is the abandonment by Russia of her claim to sovereignty over the Pacific Ocean, a surrender of her claim to the North American Coast south of 54 min. 40 sec., a settlement by Russia and Great Britain as to the boundary line of their possessions in North America, agreements as to settlements on each other's territory and navigation of each other's waters, but no surrender of Russia's jurisdiction over Behring's Sea. Russia's dominion as to all North America and the waters of the sea within the limits laid down by the treaty of 1867 passed by that treaty to the United States. Such is our understanding of the law; such is the record upon which the United States are prepared to abide the judgments of the courts and the opinion of the civilized world."

THE CANADIAN COMMISSIONER.

The Mail and the Globe on Tupper's Appointment.

TORONTO, Oct. 15.—The Mail, in an editorial on Sir Charles Tupper's appointment as Canadian representative on the Fisheries Commission, says: "At the last session of Parliament, Sir Charles Tupper gave the country to understand that he, for one, was not prepared to listen to reasoning on the fishery question. On the contrary, he was in favor of what may be termed a spirited cruiser policy for the maintenance of our hard-and-fast interpretation of the treaty of 1818, and he cared nothing for American threats of retaliation. He also let it be understood that he was more than ever convinced of the feasibility of creating a united and prosperous Dominion by means of the protective system. If Sir Charles were still in this unenviable frame of mind, we think we should have good ground for challenging his fitness to represent us at Washington. It is said, however, that during his absence in London, he has made it his business to study the whole situation. It is fair to conclude that as an intelligent man he has not sought light in vain, but is to take somewhat larger views of things than he did six months ago."

After reviewing at length the condition, financial and political, of Canada since confederation, the Mail continues: "A radical change is necessary if confederation is to survive. If we are not mistaken in supposing this view of the case is shared at least to some extent by Sir Charles, we will probably not be wrong in saying that he must regard the commercial union as the only means, short of annexation, by which we can obtain relief. That it affords the only means of settling the fishery question is the conclusion at which Mr. Bayard has arrived and to which the two English representatives on the commission will no doubt be forced, when they come to examine the hopeless complication into which the original question has resolved itself. Sir Charles will thus have it in his power to terminate the long-standing dispute with the United States, and to lift the Dominion out of the slough by one and the same stroke of statesmanship. No Canadian public man ever had a fairer opportunity of serving his country, and we beg him to remember that in the nature of things it can never present itself again."

The Globe says: "The appointment of Sir Charles Tupper as the representative of Canada at the convention about to be held in Washington is calculated to excite much suspicion wherever he is known, and to create profound uneasiness among all who desire to see the exchange of commodities between the United States and Canada made more free than it is at present. No one who knows him will imagine that he goes to the convention to maintain the rights or guard the interests of Canada. People will ask whom and what will he represent at Washington? Monopolists of all kinds, men who desire to extort money to which they have no right from the people of Canada by means of an act of Parliament, are now the main proprietors and supporters of the Dominion Government. They are opposed to any treaty or arrangement that could break down any part of the system that brings them wealth, and Sir Charles may be regarded as the representative and champion in the convention of all these monopolists."

TO-DAY'S DISPATCHES.

The Opposition to Chamberlain as Commissioner.

Chopping a Foot Off to Escape Fire—Frozen to Death.

THE ANARCHISTS DOOMED.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Governor Oglesby delivered an address of welcome before the convention of locomotive engineers which met here yesterday and created a profound sensation by making what is generally believed to be pointed references to the cases of the anarchists now awaiting the action of the supreme court. "There have been cases in this fair land," said he, "when hungry men and hungry wives and children at home have listened to flashy sentences of men who thought they could interpose themselves between laboring people and the steady march of law, order and justice. Deeds of violence followed, and all too late they found they were not potent enough to make a change of affairs. Appeals to the justice of the people will always in the end result in justice, but violence and outrage of laws and justice will meet with inevitable punishment." The Governor's unmistakable words have caused much comment, and the opinion is now freely expressed that the condemned anarchists stand little chance of pardon, or even of commutation of sentence.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—General Roger A. Pryor, counsel for the condemned anarchists, left here to-day with the remaining counsel for Washington, where a motion will be made for a writ of error before Judge Harlan of the U. S. supreme court.

FATAL EXPLOSION.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—The steamer Nicaragua arrived from Panama this morning. On September 12th, during an examination of a box of dynamite cartridges in Callao customs house, an explosion occurred and forty persons were injured; nineteen have died.

PRISONER ACQUITTED.

NEVADA CITY, Cala., Oct. 20.—Harry J. Dassonville, accused of the murder of banker Richards, was acquitted last night. On a motion of the district attorney the case against Annie Dassonville, wife of the defendant was ordered to be dismissed and bonds of both released.

THE JURY DISCHARGED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—In the trial of the millionaire Morrow to day for embracery, James McCord declined to answer questions for the prosecution for fear of criminating himself. Juror Woods was placed on the witness stand and testified as to an attempt to bribe him in the Wright case. He charged McCord and Northy with having offered him money.

EARTHQUAKE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—An earthquake is reported this morning in a number of small towns in Marin, Solano and Santa Cruz counties.

NO GOVERNOR.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 20.—The Record-Union announces to-day that Governor Waterman discovered yesterday that California had no legally qualified governor from January 1st, 1883, to January 1st 1887. General George Stoneman was elected, acted as such four years, but was never legally qualified. Such being the case there will not be an appointed office in the state but will have to be refilled.

SEALERS TO BE RELEASED.

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—After months of quibbling by Secretary Bayard relative to the Behring Sea seizures of last year, the Canadian Government is in receipt of a dispatch from the Imperial authorities enclosing a communication from Secretary Bayard, in which that gentleman expresses his regret that his previous orders were not carried out and stating that fresh orders have been given for the release of the Onward, Caroline and the Thornton.

A HEROIC REMEDY.

LINCOLN, Nev., Oct. 20.—Two Burlington and Missouri freight trains collided near the village of Woodlawn, four miles north of here about 3 o'clock this morning. The engine and a dozen cars were completely wrecked. The wreck immediately took fire. Isaac Davenport, brakesman on one of the trains, got his right foot caught between the engine tender and the iron bar. Flames were drawing near to him and his only way to release himself was to chop his foot loose with an axe. His right knee was crushed so that it was necessary to amputate the leg above that joint. He is dying. The wreck was caused by the carelessness of the conductor of the north bound train, who pulled out without noticing that the other trains had not registered. He has disappeared.

AN AGED MURDERER.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 20.—At Jalapa, on the outskirts of this city, Hy. Schaffner, a wealthy and eccentric old man, last night shot and killed his wife and then suicided. He was 75 and she was 40 years old. They were married only a year ago.

THE CAPSIZED SLOOP.

NANAIMO, Oct. 20.—The report has reached here that the capsized sloop seen off Cape Madge is recognized by Samuel Cliff, of Comox, as having been the one manned by Robert Hall, John Smith and John Bryant, alias Black Jack, all of Wellington, who are supposed to be drowned.

THE DECORATION SCANDAL.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—La Paris again attacks M. Wilson, charging that as a director of the printing office at Dijon he sent a circular to the finance officials throughout the provinces. It gives a list of such officials who became customers and who since have been promoted or decorated out of their turn.

AN INCENDIARY ANARCHIST.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Franz Wickof, a member of the Anarchist Club, which has been making a living by setting fire to property for the purpose of getting the insurance money, was found guilty of that offence in the General Sessions Court yesterday. The alleged leader of a gang named Scharf has escaped, and it was stated he had for several years made a business of setting fire to houses on commission.

SEVERE WEATHER.

BERLIN, Oct. 20.—During the past few days, persons sleeping in the open air at Carlsruhe, Creseld and elsewhere, have been frozen to death.

CHAMBERLAIN'S BITTERNESS.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—I have reason to believe, writes the London correspondent of the Leed's Mercury, that the American Government has conveyed an intimation to Lord Salisbury that the bitterness of Chamberlain's anti-Irish speeches will not facilitate a settlement of the Fisheries question. President Cleveland and his colleagues are afraid that Chamberlain may be met by hostile demonstrations in the United States, and if any such incident occurred, it would not only be awkward for the English Commissioners, but would tend to prejudice any argument that might be arrived at. If Chamberlain and the American Government come to an agreement there is considerable risk that the Senate, under the influence of the Irish vote, may be induced to veto it. No treaty with the United States is valid unless formally approved of by the Senate, and the American Government is afraid that Chamberlain's language will materially affect the action of that body in regard to it.

THE METLAKAHTLA CONSPIRATORS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

DEAR SIR,—When Bishop Cridge, Senator W. J. Macdonald, Finance Minister Turner, Conn. Pearse and Beeton, Agent-General for British Columbia, gave Mr. Duncan his credentials to the Americans, they knew perfectly well his traitorous errand. They knew him to be a sort of Mahdi among his few hundred followers, and therefore were his accomplices and accessories before the fact. Nay it is possible that the disloyal mission of Mr. Duncan was determined upon then on the 16th of Nov, 1886. There is no occasion to embellish this with the usual bolted and barred room, dimly lighted with a single candle; the conspirators speaking in whispers and so forth. Neither is there any occasion just now to enquire whether Mr. Duncan owed Turner, Beeton & Co., $15,000, or Senator Macdonald anything; nor whether they have been repaid since. Senator Macdonald, Finance Minister Turner and their co-conspirators say in their credentials Duncan "is on his way to Washington, deputed by the native Christian brethren of Metlakahtla to confer with the United States authorities;" to seek a refuge from grevious wrongs under the American flag.

In the first place Duncan was not on his way when the credentials were given, but in Victoria. He did not come to Victoria with the intention of going to Washington. That he, Duncan, had any written credentials from the Metlakahtla Indians at all is very problematical. Now mark, that Duncan, Senator Macdonald and Bishop Cridge wrote several letters, which were published in the Colonist about November, 1886, extolling the loyalty of the Metlakahtla Indians; that they were ready and anxious to be enrolled as soldiers of Her Majesty, and so forth. But not one word is said about any desire on their part to quit Metlakahtla or to seek refuge under the American flag. In fact, there does not appear any idea of their doing or wishing to do so. Observe: On November 10th, 1886, Duncan wrote his last letter to the Colonist. No word whatever about going to the United States is there in it; and yet on the 16th, viz: six days later, and a couple of days before the Cormorant returned from the North, the conspirators give Duncan his credentials, and on the 17th he goes! Now mark the following: On November 26th, ten days after Duncan had received his credentials from Macdonald & Co., and had gone to the United States authorities, Tomlinson writes a letter, dated Metlakahtla, November 26th, in which is the usual high hypocritical language about the Indians of Metlakahtla, but not one word about the Indians desiring to go to the United States. Not one word about the Indians having deputed Mr. Duncan to seek a home for them in the United States! Please remember that Tomlinson was Duncan's coadjutor, did all his dirty work, lived among the Indians; knew all that was going on among them; and yet ten days after Duncan had left Victoria for America he (Tomlinson) writes a letter in which he does not mention anything about the Indians having deputed Duncan! Now, if the Indians had deputed Duncan is it probable, or possible, that the thing could have been kept private and Tomlinson know nothing about it? Nay, more; Tomlinson describes what he thinks is panacia for settling what he calls Indian troubles and so forth, in which he states "this settlement should so deal with the question of general land claims as to take away its significance and absorb it in secondary matters." Now mark further: When H. M. S. Cormorant was at Metlakahtla the Indians presented a petition to the Captain of H. M. S. Cormorant in which they say: "Although Indians we are, and have been for years loyal subjects of Her Majesty." Is it not then perfectly clear that the Indians did not depute Duncan by written authority, but that Messrs. Cridge, Macdonald, Turner, Pearse and Beeton did! Who then are the disloyal—who the conspirators? Certainly not the Indians! Tomlinson and Duncan are separated now! Tomlinson has not gone to the new settlement in the United States! Why?

It is plain then that Duncan did, on his own account, depute himself an ambassador to the American authorities, and in so doing lent support to the fact that Duncan led the Indians, and not the Indians Duncan. Duncan always pulled the ropes, and the Indians danced accordingly. It is a mere blind following of Duncan methods. After Duncan had gone most Indians knew little or nothing about it, and they said if he bring back money enough to build us a new town, &c., "we will go, but not otherwise." Duncan, it is known, received at first no encouragement from the American government, and then Duncan made use of the States wrighing against the government of Canada and all that therein is. Here it was that the conspirators' credential stood him in good stead. There, says he, is the proof of all I have or do say. These letters gained him Beecher and others, and so by this agitation the U. S. government gave him an island—but nothing more. I need not say the United States authorities have no love for the British—anything to spite or annoy them suits not Americans, but foreigners, and foreigners govern the United States.

A TAUS BAYON.

Victoria, Oct. 20th, 1887.

Supposed to be Killed.

Mr. George Jones, a well-known citizen of Cowichan, was reported to have been killed yesterday near Quamichan. An Indian brought the news of the occurrence to that place shortly after noon yesterday. The sad event was caused by the running away of a team he had lately purchased. Fuller particulars will be eagerly looked for.

MR. JAMES TROW, M. P.

Mr. JAMES TROW, M. P., the Liberal whip in the Commons, and who, with Mr. WILLIAM PATERSON, M. P., visited Victoria a few weeks ago, has reached his home, Stratford, Ont. In passing through Toronto he was interviewed by a Globe representative, who states that Mr. Trow's visit to British Columbia gave him great pleasure, and he seemed very favorably impressed with the places he saw. It would seem that the Columbians returned his good-will, for he was able to say that the meeting in Victoria addressed by himself and Mr. PATERSON, M. P., was as fine a meeting as he had ever seen. It will be remembered that the telegraphic reports as well as those in the British Columbia papers went to show that this meeting was an ovation to the two Liberal representatives from Ontario, and Mr. Trow's description fully bears out all that was said.

QUITE AN AFTERTHOUGHT.

Mr. DICEY, editor of the London Observer, who is said to be in the confidence of the Imperial ministers, thus writes what is really supposed to be the government view of the Alaska question, which is now looming up into much diplomatic importance. Secretary BAYARD, he observes, may say that the Behring Sea question has no connection with the Canadian fisheries dispute, but he will find it difficult to persuade any reasonable being that it has not. For two years past, indeed, at intervals during the last fifty years, the Americans have been working themselves into a bellicose humor because the British North American provinces claim jurisdiction over certain bays which are wider than six miles at the mouth, yet now we find that they themselves claim jurisdiction over waters in the North Pacific more extensive than the Gulf of St. Lawrence, North Sea and Baltic Sea all put together. The State Department at Washington has pointed out that the British Government has never raised the question of the right of the United States to exercise jurisdiction over the waters in Behring Sea, but surely our foreign office would have been acting indiscreetly in raising such a question before it was not only claimed, but exercised. The last Republican President, ARTHUR, suggested in his Presidential message that this question of sealing in Behring Sea should be dealt with by an International Commission. That shows that the present exercise of shadowy claim to exclusive jurisdiction is quite an afterthought on the part of the Washington Government.

PROVINCIAL RIGHTS.

The Hon. WILLIAM MACDOUGALL, C. B., has addressed a lengthy open letter to Mr. MERCIER, Premier of Quebec, at the latter's request, on the constitutional limits of the veto power in Canada. Mr. MACDOUGALL was one of the fathers of Confederation—a fact which may not be generally known in this province—and one of the few now living who took an active part in the debates and prolonged discussions which led to its formation, and the conferences held in Quebec, and elsewhere. He was one of the delegates from Canada to London to perfect the British North America Act. He then, above all others, is in a position to write intelligently on all subjects arising for discussion in connection with the idea of the subordination of the Local Legislatures to the Federal power, within their respective spheres. Mr. MACDOUGALL recalls at much length, the discussions which took place at the conferences relative to the powers assigned to the Local Legislatures. He states that the word "control" in regard to their local affairs, was specially introduced in the second resolution of the Quebec conference, at the suggestion of a delegate from one of the Maritime Provinces—now believed to be the Hon. J. H. GRAY, one of our local judges—as an additional safeguard against the possible encroachments of the Federal Government. He also quotes the speech of Sir HECTOR LANGEVIN on the subject in the Canadian Parliament, in the course of which, replying to the fears expressed by Sir A. A. DORION, he solemnly assured the House and the country as Solicitor-General in the then Government that only measures of the nature of those previously reserved for Her Majesty's sanction would be subjected to disallowance, and that therefore the member for Hochelaga had no reason to reproach the Government for consenting to the two clauses in question. To this official explanation of the Solicitor-General, Mr. MACDOUGALL adds that he gave his assent, and that he is not aware that the tenor and meaning of the resolutions of the Quebec Conference has been extended, unless it has been done by the British North America Act. He further cites the order-in-council prepared by Sir JOHN MACDONALD as Minister of Justice, and passed on the 9th of June, 1868, to which he was also a party, to define the limits within which the veto power should be exercised and the line of conduct which in future should be pursued in the connection, and concludes as follows: "After an experience of nearly twenty years of the limits laid "down by that Order in Council, for "which I was responsible as a member of the government which adopted it, I declare that I am unable to "offer any amendment to it. Until "the attempt which has just been "made against the Province of Manitoba in disallowing a local statute "within the jurisdiction of that province, and not at all subject to objections for any of the reasons mentioned in the Order in Council of "1868, no serious complaint reached "my ears. Why this new tactic? "Why this attempt to destroy the "legislative independence of the "provinces by the unconstitutional use of a latent power? "Can it be said that the law "and general interests of Canada require that the people of Manitoba "should be prevented from building "a railway within the limits of their "own territory, for their own use and "at their own cost? As I regard it "as an honor to have been one of the "first in proposing a Federal Union "of the Provinces, I regard this "sinister attempt upon the Federal "system of our constitution with a "grave feeling of apprehension. If "we permit Manitoba's rights to be "trodden under foot, what Province "can repel a similar encroachment "on its rights? I therefore rejoice "at your proposal of a conference "of the Premiers and representatives "of the Provinces to organize the "Provincial forces. If you march "on in solid phalanx within the lines "of the Constitution, as explained "and defended by some of the very "men who are now seeking to destroy it, you will soon get the better "of your enemies and deserve, as I "hope you will receive it, the praise "of all true Canadians."

CITY COUNCIL.

Meeting Last Night—Mr. Keefer's Report on the Water Works.

The City Council met at 8 o'clock last night. Present, His Worship Mayor Fell, Couns. Harris, Higgins, Barnard, Styles, Braden, Vigelius and Pearse.

Mr. Partridge read the minutes of previous meeting, which were adopted.

COMMUNICATIONS:

From J. B. Harrison requesting permission to plant shade trees around his property at the corner of Oswego street. Referred to the Street Committee.

From A. Gilmore, calling attention to the fact that tenders for a supply of clothing had been handed to the Police Committee by parties who intended having the clothes manufactured in Eastern Canada. Mr. Gilmore considered that the clothing should be manufactured in this province. The communication was laid on the table.

From Thorton Fell, on behalf of Sing Lee, informing the Council that 6 acres of land was flooded by a break in the water mains and requiring payment for the crop of potatoes which was ruined thereby. Referred to Water Committee and Water Commissioner to report.

The following letter was read from Messrs. Davie & Pooley: "We are instructed to write and inform you that the cheque given to Mr. H. P. Bell by the Corporation for the sum of $528 and dated the 30th August, 1887, has been refused payment at the Bank of B. N. A. on the ground that the cheque does not bear the signature of His Worship the Mayor. We shall be obliged if you will instruct the manager of the Bank of B.N.A. to honor the cheque or take some steps towards raising sufficient money towards this obligation. We are not desirous of taking legal steps against the Corporation for the recovery of this money, but we are instructed to do so if the amount is not paid."

Coun. Vigelius moved that the letter be received and filed. Seconded by Coun. Pearse.

Coun. Barnard moved, in amendment, seconded by Coun. Braden, that Messrs. Davie & Pooley be informed that the account was approved of by the Finance Committee; but owing to His Worship's refusal to sign the cheque, the money could not be handed to Mr. Bell. The amendment was carried.

From John Mortimer for permission to lay a stone crossing on Cormorant street. Referred to the Street Committee.

From residents on King's road requesting that water pipes be laid. Referred to Water Committee.

From thirty-two residents and ratepayers for permission to use the City Hall on Thursday night to discuss the labor question. Granted.

NOTICE OF MOTION.

Coun. Higgins gave notice that he will introduce a motion to repeal by-law 132, and he also introduced a by-law to grant a bonus to a reduction works, to be referred to the city barrister. Referred to city barrister.

The City Auditor submitted a report showing that fines and forfeitures from January 1st to Oct. 1st amounted to $3496.75. Laid on table.

Coun. Barnard gave notice that he would move that the sum of $200 be donated to the bandmaster and bandsmen of H. M. S. Triumph. The mover said it was customary to take up subscriptions for this purpose, and the expense was generally borne by a few citizens; the band was entitled to some recompense, and by adopting the resolution the ratepayers would all donate a fair share.

Coun. Pearse was not in favor of using the municipal revenue for this purpose; although the band should receive some substantial recompense, he did not consider that the Council could legally donate funds; should a subscription list be started, the speaker would willingly assist the band by donating a sum from his private purse.

Coun. Harris called attention to a petition which was submitted some time ago regarding a Sunday by-law. The speaker said the question could not be fully discussed during the absence of Couns. Grant and Coughlin. Coun. Harris moved, seconded by Coun. Higgins, that a committee be appointed to confer with the Licensed Victuallers and the petitioners.

Coun. Higgins thought that a conference should be held and a committee appointed by the Council to confer with the Licensed Victuallers, and also with the parties interested in the petition.

Coun. Pearse was sure that the saloon-keepers were in favor of observing the Sabbath. A petition had been handed in signed by a large number of citizens, and their request should be considered by the Council.

Coun. Braden said that from the remarks made by a number of councillors, a stranger would infer that the people did nothing but fill themselves up with whiskey on Sunday. In Vancouver, where the Sunday law is in force, a number of drunken men can be seen on the Sabbath Day. In this city he considered that a Sunday law was unnecessary, as the people observed the Sabbath in a becoming manner; he did not wish to return to the days of the inquisition.

Coun. Harris' motion was passed. Couns. Harris, Higgins and Braden were appointed to meet the parties interested.

REPORT OF POLICE COMMITTEE.

"The Police Committee beg to report as follows: "That they have ordered that a stove (property of the city) be erected at the lock-up so as to warm and dry the cells. They recommend that a double door be placed at the entrance or passageway to the cells. The committee further report that they have received several tenders for Police clothing from city clothiers. Some of the tenderers propose to make the garments here; others, in Ontario. The committee ask the advice of the Council as to whether it is advisable to have the clothing made by local or eastern tailors, the latter being much cheaper than the former."

Coun. Pearse moved, seconded by Coun. Braden that the report be adopted. The mover considered that clothing for the police should be made in this city; the clothing would cost a little more; ratepayers are entitled to some consideration and the money would be kept in the country.

Coun. Braden said the clothing would cost more if made in this city, but the work would be done more satisfactorily; if the Council intended to get cheap clothing they might as well send to Germany.

MR. KEEFER'S REPORT

was read and a motion was introduced by Coun. Harris, seconded by Coun. Pearse, that the report be received and printed.

Coun. Higgins—Some more definate action should be taken, your Worship; Mr. Keefer concurs with Mr. Summerfield's scheme and if the Water Commissioner has prepared plans and specifications tenders should be called for.

The Water Commissioner informed the Council that he could immediately furnish plans and specifications.

Coun. Braden moved, seconded by Coun. Higgins, "That sealed tenders be received until noon on Nov. 2nd, for the construction of a 16 inch steel main from the head of the water works at Elk Lake to the city of Victoria, in accordance with plans and specifications to be provided by the Water Commissioner."

Coun. Vigelius wished to know whether the Council could, legally, advertise for tenders without submitting the new scheme to the ratepayers.

Coun. Pearse would be in favor of printing Mr. Keefer's report; he would not advise the Council to pass Mr. Braden's motion so hastily; print the report and the Council could calmly review the different ideas submitted by Mr. Keefer.

Coun. Higgins considered that some of the Councillors were delaying this most important work.

His Worship wished to know whether the Council intended to expend the money voted as the ratepayers decided it should be expended.

Coun. Pearse—Mr. Hendry's scheme has received the approval of the ratepayers; the Councillors should not act in so unadvisable a manner; let the people consider the scheme submitted by Mr. Summerfield and ascertain whether they consider it the most advisable. Mr. Hendry's scheme was, in the speaker's opinion, far superior to the one submitted by the Water Commissioner.

Coun. Barnard was of the opinion that legal advice should be obtained.

Coun. Braden—At the last meeting of Council Coun. Vigelius said that he was willing to abide by Mr. Keefer's report, now that the report is in favor of Mr. Summerfield's scheme he wished to drag the matter into court.

Coun. Vigelius—The scheme submitted by Mr. Summerfield is, no doubt, a good one, but the ratepayers have decided that Mr. Hendry's shall be carried out. Although favorable to the construction of another main, it is impossible for the Council to override the decision of a majority of the ratepayers.

Coun. Styles—When the Council decided to engage Mr. Keefer it was distinctly understood that his report would be accepted as final; the report was before them, and the speaker considered that it was most acceptable.

His Worship considered the motion to call for tenders out of order. If a majority of the Councillors wished to pass the motion they could elect another chairman. The Mayor said he would not incur any personal responsibility and be dragged into court. The municipal elections would take place in a short time and the ratepayers would decide whether a majority of the Council were right or wrong. The Hendry scheme was submitted to them and endorsed, and, until the ratepayers decided to expend the money otherwise, His Worship would not incur any responsibility. The Mayor then left the chair.

Coun. Barnard was elected chairman and the motion to call for tenders was passed.

Coun. Vigelius moved, seconded by Coun. Harris, that the City Clerk request Mr. Theo. Davie and Mr. C. E. Pooley to advise the Council regarding the legality of their actions in calling for tenders to construct a new main. Carried.

WATER COMMISSIONER'S REPORT.

The number of services on Jan. 1st, 1887, was 1638; connected since that date, 97; total, 1735 services. Revenue derived to Sept. 30, 1887, $25,829.69. Expenditure, $3885.78. The apparent increase in revenue during the months of April and July is due to some of the rents being collected quarterly. This account of expenditure only deals with labor and not with material, though this latter item is small and difficult to arrive at until later in the year. The cost of pumping can only be arrived at on a pro rata of expenditure with the electric light, although the expenditure under this head is now materially reduced. The report then deals with the amount of pipe on hand. The number of hydrants is 64. A table is annexed showing length of pipes aggregating 125,126 feet, comprising 30,266 feet of 12-inch pipe; 520 feet 11-inch pipe; 600 feet 10-inch pipe; 630 feet of 9-inch pipe; 900 feet of 7-inch pipe; 500 feet 6-inch pipe; 8250 feet 5-inch pipe; 26,900 feet 4-inch pipe; 7530 feet 3-inch pipe; 9150 feet 2¼-inch pipe; 49,880 feet 2-inch pipe.

Council adjourned at 10:15 o'clock.

What Am I To Do

The symptoms of Biliousness are unhappily too well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A Bilious man is seldom a breakfast eater. Too frequently, alas, he has an excellent appetite for liquids but none for solids of a morning. His tongue will hardly bear inspection at any time; if it is not white and furred, it is rough, at all events.

The digestive system is wholly out of order and Diarrhœa or Constipation may be a symptom or the two may alternate. There are often Hemorrhoids or even loss of blood. There may be giddiness and often headache and acidity or flatulence and tenderness in the pit of the stomach. To correct all this if not effect a cure try Green's August Flower, it costs but a trifle and thousands attest its efficacy.

Anthracite coal prices are now $6.50 a ton for stove sizes and $6.25 for grate and egg in Eastern Canada.

Day and Night

During an acute attack of Bronchitis, a ceaseless tickling in the throat, and an exhausting, hacking cough, afflict the sufferer. Sleep is banished, and great prostration follows. This disease is also attended with Hoarseness, and sometimes Loss of Voice. It is liable to become chronic, involve the lungs, and terminate fatally. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral affords speedy relief and cure in cases of Bronchitis. It controls the disposition to cough, and induces refreshing sleep.

I have been a practising physician for twenty-four years, and, for the past twelve, have suffered from annual attacks of Bronchitis. After exhausting all the usual remedies

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is decidedly the best remedy, within my knowledge, for chronic Bronchitis, and all lung diseases. —M. A. Rust, M. D., South Paris, Me.

I was attacked, last winter, with a severe Cold, which grew worse and settled on my Lungs. By night sweats I was reduced almost to a skeleton. My Cough was incessant, and I frequently spit blood. My physician told me to give up business, or I would not live a month. After taking various remedies without relief, I was finally two bottles of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I am now in perfect health, and able to resume business, after having been pronounced incurable with Consumption.—S. P. Henderson, Saulsburg, Penn.

For years I was in a decline. I had weak lungs, and suffered from Bronchitis and Catarrh. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral restored me to health, and I have been for a long time comparatively vigorous. In case of a sudden cold I always resort to the Pectoral, and find speedy relief.—Edward E. Curtis, Rutland, Vt.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Bronchitis. The physician attending me became fearful that the disease would terminate in Pneumonia. After trying various medicines, without benefit, he prescribed Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which relieved me at once. I continued to take this medicine, and was cured. —Ernest Colton, Logansport, Ind. ††

CITY WATER WORKS.

Report of Mr. T. C. Keefer, C. M. G., to Council.

The Rival Schemes Contrasted—A Main Recommended.

The following is the report of Mr. T. C. Keefer, C. M. G., who was appointed by the Council to investigate and report upon the proposed schemes for the extension of the water works of the city:

VICTORIA, Oct. 18th, 1887.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 6th inst., transmitting a resolution of the City Council referring to me "the various schemes for the extension of the water works which have been submitted to the Council," and requesting that I should decide which should be adopted, or submit a scheme which I should consider best in the interests of the city.

I have visited Elk Lake—the source of supply—and all the elevated portions of the city and suburbs and have had personal communication with Mr. Hendry, your engineer, in reference to the reservoir scheme proposed by him, and also with Mr. Summerfield, your water commissioner, with reference to the scheme laid down in his report.

Mr. Russell, your late water commissioner, has kindly supplied me with the following information:

"On the 31st of December, 1879, there were 878 service pipes connected with the mains. Since then up to the 31st of December, 1886, they have been increased to 1,638. Many of these services supplied several houses owned by one person, also tenement houses, some having as many as forty separate tenants; also breweries, foundries, saw-mills, tanneries and various other manufactories; livery stables and several wharves for shipping to the extent of an average monthly drawing of 900,000 gallons. If these services were applied to domestic use only and separate houses, they would represent about 3,000 instead of 1,638."

The growth of water consumption may be inferred from the increase in the amount of the gross revenue from them in the last five years. Those were:

| | Services. | Revenue. |
|---|---|---|
| 1882 | 45 | $27,900 |
| 1883 | 101 | 25,594 |
| 1884 | 107 | 30,440 |
| 1885 | 192 | 36,421 |

Over six hundred services, or more than one-third of the total number have been laid in the last four years; and the revenue, which was stationary at $28,000 for the three years preceding 1883 has increased over eighty per cent. (80%) in the last six years. As the cost of maintenance and salaries has averaged about $5,000 per annum for the last eight years, the net revenue, which is over $32,500, would pay the interest upon a capital of over $650,000, or more than three times the cost of the present works.

The effect of this rapid growth in the last four of the fourteen years during which the works have been in existence, has been steadily to lower the head in the city pipes, reducing the pressure everywhere and depriving the higher levels of water.

I found the gauge at the city hall registering 45lbs. at noon and 32lbs. at 10:30 p. m. and Mr. Hendry informed me that during the hot weather and the irrigating season the pressure fell to and remained at 25lbs.

This range of the gauge from 32lbs. to 25lbs. shows a falling away of the water in the pipes on the higher levels to the extent of 62 feet.

To remedy this two plans are proposed. The first by your engineer, Mr. Hendry, the other by your water commissioner, Mr. Summerfield.

MR. HENDRY'S SCHEME.

Mr. Hendry proposes to establish a low service reservoir with the water surface at a level of 134 feet above high water mark, to extend the present 12-inch main into it, turn it upward and discharge from it at a level of 144 feet above H. W. M. or ten feet above the top water surface in the reservoir. This fall of ten feet to be utilized as a water power to pump, by means of a water pressure engine, a supply (estimated at 100,000 gallons per day of 24 hours) to a high level reservoir, the water surface of which is to be 224 feet above H. W. M.

The low level reservoir is designed to supply all that portion of the city which lies below a level of 80 feet above H. W. M., and the high level reservoir is to supply all above a level of 130 feet above H. W. M.

The district lying between the high and low level ones—that is between 80 and 130 feet over H. W. M.—called "the middle zone," to be supplied by gravitation from the 12 in. stand pipe which forms the termination of the supply pipe to the low level reservoir; which stand pipe is arranged to deliver at the different levels of 134, 139 and 144 feet above H. W. M. From this stand pipe also is drawn the supply for the high level district, the suction pipe of the pumping motor being connected in the reservoir with the supply pipe which comes from Elk Lake. The object of the side openings in the stand pipe at the levels of 134 and 139 above H. W. M. is to give power to increase the discharge from Elk Lake into the low level reservoir, whenever that becomes necessary, so to provide for this contingency of the stoppage of the water power, as well as for fire purposes, a steam engine is to be placed alongside the hydraulic one, which it is proposed to use constantly for about three months in summer during the period of greatest consumption. Mr. Hendry gives the number of dwellings within the middle zone, and high level districts—that is all above 29 feet over H. W. M.—at one hundred and thirty-five (135), fifty of which are in the high level district, and eighty-five within the middle zone, and he estimates the total population to be supplied in these upper districts at 810 persons, allowing six per house.

With 50 lbs. pressure on the city hall gauge, Mr. Hendry states the present main will deliver water up to 167 feet above H. W. M.; and that above this level there are eleven houses yielding a revenue of thirty-five dollars per month. He also says the highest register of the city hall gauge, with all consumption shut off, is sixty pounds.

He estimates the cost of the low service reservoir at 97,145, and of the high level reservoir at 97,726.

He considers the adoption of this scheme would improve the supply over the present condition of the gravitation system, fully one hundred per cent.

MR. SUMMERFIELD'S SCHEME.

The water commissioner proposes "that a main of 16 inches minimum internal diameter be laid from the Elk Lake reservoir to some point on the east side of the city, which shall have an elevation of 150 feet above high water mark. In order to supply the higher levels from this elevation of 150 feet the whole discharge of the 16 inch should be diverted into three cast iron distributing pipes of ten inches diameter each—one of which to be laid to the higher level and the other two to the lower ones, and connected with the distributing system supplied by the present 12 inch main, all obstructions being removed.

After the main is laid and delivering water to the city then proceed with the high level reservoir; but nothing should be done in the matter until the high level 16 inch main is in operation, so as to determine the most practicable site and obtain the highest possible elevation for the reservoir.

He estimates the cost of a mild steel riveted main 16 inches in diameter at $800 per mile, exclusive of the cost of the pipe track, trenching and covering.

The estimated cost of both schemes would not show any important difference, both being designed to come within the appropriation; but the distinctive features of the two are: that one, the reservoir system, proposes to supply the high levels by pumping from the low ones, without increasing the total supply; the other by an additional and larger main from the Elk Lake reservoir, which would more than double the total supply, but which would not deliver the water for the high level district within about forty feet of the height proposed in the reservoir system.

The advantages of a distributing reservoir within a city are that it stores the surplus delivery of the country main during the night, plants a body of water in close proximity to the distribution, meeting the sudden demand for fires without great loss of pressure, as well as providing against interruption to the supply by accident to the country main.

To meet these requirements such a reservoir must be amply supplied, the quantity which can be delivered into it must exceed that which can be drawn from it within a day or more, according to its storage capacity. In the present case the low service reservoir is placed with its water service about 55 feet below the source of supply—with which it is connected by a 12-inch pipe 36,000 feet (nearly seven miles) in length, discharging under a head ranging between 45 and 55 feet.

The City Hall gauge stands at a height of 61 feet above high water mark, and when it registers as low as 25 lbs. it indicates a level of water in the distributing pipes 118 feet above high water mark, or sixteen feet lower than the proposed level of the water surface in the low level reservoir and 20 feet above the highest point in the low level district; but when it stands at 32 lbs.—as it does now during the nights—it indicates a level in the pipes 62 feet higher or 180 feet above high water mark, and about ten feet below the level of Elk Lake, and ninety-one feet above the highest level to be supplied by the low level reservoir; with 45 lbs. pressure, which is the present condition during the day, the water level in the city pipes should stand 164 feet above high water mark.

By establishing the water surface of the low level reservoir at 134 feet above high water mark there would be, as compared with the present condition, a loss of head in the distributing pipes of 30 feet during the day and of 81 feet during the night. This would be a very serious loss of pressure in case of fire in the higher parts which the greater proximity of the reservoir would not be sufficient compensation. The mild steel main, which embraces that portion of the city between 80 feet and 130 feet above high water mark, would be proportionately in a City Hall gauge down to about 20 lbs. Its upper line, when the stand pipe was discharging at the top, would have a head of only fourteen feet because, although supplied from the 16-inch pipe in communication with Elk Lake, that pipe being cut at the level of 144 feet a low high water mark, the pressure on the middle zone would be limited to the head due to a level; the lowest levels of this middle zone would have a head of 55 feet, scarcely sufficient to supply two-story houses at any considerable distance from the reservoir during the hours of greatest consumption.

With a high level reservoir having its water surface 224 feet above high water mark, the high level district would have a head of 94 feet on its lower line, and about 80 feet above the basement of the highest building in course of erection in the city limits. If the middle zone were added to it, as would, I think, be done under the reservoir scheme, its lowest line would be 135 feet below the high level reservoir, the conditions in this case becoming similar to those for the low level district. The water would not have to be pumped any higher, but in larger quantity. The additional power required for this additional supply could not be taken from the Elk Lake main without raising the stand pipe in the reservoir, and by so much diminishing the supply to the low level districts.

This low level district embraces all that portion of the city which may be described as follows:

All west of Chambers street between Bay street extension and Pemberton avenue; west of Cook between Pembroke and Pandora avenues; west of a line drawn from the head of Johnson street to Moss street between Belcher and Richardson streets; all the southern portion of the city except on Cathedral and Beacon Hills, and all the northern portion north of Bay street. All of the above, besides adjoining districts outside the city limits which will require a water supply are at a less elevation than 90 feet above high water mark. This district contains about 25,000, out of the total of about 107,000 feet of the water pipes laid, and consumes, I believe, a much greater proportion of the total water supplied. The only provision which the reservoir scheme contains for increased supply to this great district is that of the additional discharge which a 12-inch pipe can deliver by increasing the head ten feet. This margin for security I believe to be altogether too small, and there is no means of increasing it without making matters worse for this great district, because the quantity can only be increased by delivering it at a reduced pressure. The consumption during the summer months shows that this main now requires a head about 16 feet greater.

The most striking feature of the reservoir scheme is the creation of a water power for the supply of the high level district, but it has this defect that while the wants of the high level district may be increased, the water power cannot be; except at the expense of the much more important low level one. Moreover, the water power created at so great a cost is only relied upon for about nine months of the year.

But the cost of the low level reservoir is less important than the permanent damage it inflicts upon a district embracing nearly the whole city by cutting off about 50 feet of the pressure head within its reach.

The chief advantage offered by the reservoir system is its water power feature; but in this case it seems will be a more reliable and cheaper power, and one which can be increased as required. I understand that the cost of running the pumps for the supply of the high level district is about $250 per month. This is considerably less than would be the interest on the cost of the low level reservoir.

The present main is capable of delivering more water than is now consumed, but not always where the water is wanted, and not anywhere with the pressure it formerly gave. It is not capable of meeting the requirements of a large fire on the higher levels of Longmore street, not from want of head but from want of size.

Provision for a large fire, as established by the experience of Montreal, calls for a supply of water at the rate of 1,500 gallons per minute, although, when got at early, the amount necessary is only one-third, or less, of that quantity.

From the best information I can obtain think your greatest consumption has reached a rate of about 900,000 gallons per day, or 75 gallons per head for a population of 12,000. If a less number are taking the water the rate per head will be higher. In several Canadian and American cities, where the water is abundant, the consumption exceeds 100 gallons per head per diem.

The city has outgrown the capacity of the present works, and what your water works must require is more water, which means better pressure every where.

I would therefore recommend you to carry out the scheme recommended in your water commissioner's report, which appears to me to be well considered. The only suggestion I would offer would be to make the pipe larger, and that when it becomes necessary, you can replace the present main with a larger steel one and utilize the greater portion of the cast iron pipes in the city distribution.

The capacity of a pipe increases in a greater ratio than its cost. The cost for the right of way will be the same, and that of excavations, embankments and pipe track generally will be but little more for a pipe which will deliver 50 per cent. more water. The pipe proposed by your Commissioner will, I believe, supply your highest houses with water in abundance, and with as much pressure as their situation permits. When necessary to increase this pressure pumping has to be resorted to, as at present, with the advantage that the lift, and therefore the consumption of coal will be less than at present.

I enclose a map of the city, in which is colored those portions of the city and suburbs which are below the level of 90 feet above H.W.M.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

THOS. C. KEEFER.

WHEREAS, it is expedient to define the width of streets to be hereafter taken over and maintained by the City of Victoria, therefore

BE IT ENACTED by the Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria:

1. This By-Law may be cited for all purposes as "The Street Width By-Law, 1887."

2. From and after the passage of this By-Law no street that shall be of less width than sixty feet from the line fence on either side thereof shall be accepted or maintained by the said city.

3. It shall not be lawful to devote any part of the city revenue in surveying, grading or gravelling or in laying sidewalks along the line of any street not already accepted or taken over by a vote of this Council that shall be of less width than sixty feet from the line fence on either side thereof.

4. This By-Law shall not apply to any street accepted or taken over by the city at the date of the passing of this By-Law. oct13

The Siamese Princes.

Several members of the Siamese party who were here recently were pupils in the Academy in Edinburgh, Scotland, with Master A. B. Gray, of this city. The principal in a recent letter says: "At present we have two Siamese with us and they are Alecks' most intimate friends. They are exceedingly clever boys and have learned more English in two years than most of our Scotch boys would do in six. They are well advanced and thorough gentlemen."

An Indian Trespasser.

Provincial Officers Langley and C. J. Miller brought an Indian prisoner to the city this morning charged with cutting timber, valued at $50, on land owned by Captain McCallum. The evidence will be heard by the stipendiary magistrate to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock. We are informed that the district justices of the peace refused to hear the case. Dr. Powell, Indian Superintendent, will be present in the Police Court on behalf of the Indian Department. The arrest was caused by the Indian cutting on a Crown Grant claimed by Captain McCallum.

Gladstone Cigars.

Was It Murder?

A few days ago the police received information from an Indian woman, to the effect that a sailor wearing a thick red shirt, with a crescent of large buttons in the front, was most foully murdered about three years ago at the Indian camp on the Newcastle reserve. According to the story the sailor was killed in a drunken row and was buried at the forks of the Departure Bay road. An examination of the spot revealed the appearance of a trench where a body might have been buried, but no trace could be found of it.

Black and Tan Cigars,

Degree of Rebekah.

Grand Master Davies addressed Columbia Lodge, I. O. O. F., last night on the advisability of instituting a Rebekah Degree Lodge, and impressed upon the brothers present the need for greater enthusiasm and energy in carrying out the work of the order. His remarks were received with much acceptance and it was arranged to hold a meeting on Tuesday evening next in the lodge room to confer the degree. Those eligible are the wives, sisters and daughters of Odd Fellows, and about eighteen ladies are required to start the lodge. We hope the ladies will come forward and assist the good cause. The advantage of being connected with the order are many and mutual.

Tony Cigars,

Mr. R. B. Angus.

Says the Montreal Herald of the 12th inst.: R. B. Angus, Esq., leaves Montreal to-day for New York, whence he proceeds by the Etruria on Saturday to England and the continent. Mr. Angus will probably spend ten or twelve weeks in Europe. On Tuesday evening Mr. Angus was entertained at dinner at the St. James Club, by personal friends, numbering some twenty-two of our leading citizens. Mr. Angus' connection with Canada's greatest monetary institution and Canada's greatest railway enterprise has made his name familiar to thousands in England and Scotland. In revisiting the scenes of his youth, he will be recognized as another illustrious example of what is possible of attainment in Canada, when industry, brains and integrity unite to push a clever man along the pathway to fortune.

Smoke "Creme de la Creme" Cigars.

Puck Comic Opera Company.

Owing to the inability to secure dates before the arrival of the agent here, this charming little company will only be able to play one night in this city. They will arrive here Monday and play the same evening at the Victoria Theatre. The play to be presented is "Fun on Shipboard," a pretty operetta of the Fun on the Bristol order, and all Victorians who saw Fun on the Bristol will agree with us in saying it was the best thing in the theatrical line that ever visited Victoria. The same thing will be said of Fun on Shipboard after its production on Monday night. Speaking of the play and company the Los Angeles Herald says: "There is a go about the entire play and company that cannot fail to please and upon the whole the performance is such as to keep the audience roaring throughout." We would advise all who wish good seats to secure them early at M. W. Waitt & Co.'s book store as there is bound to be a crowded house.

Really! The Creme de la Creme.

Two Valuable Books.

That veteran miner and book agent, Major Downie, will canvass the city for subscribers to two excellent publications. The Life of Pope Leo XIII, from an authentic memoir is a publication which will have many buyers, not only among the faithful but among all classes and creeds. The author is Bernard O'Reilly, D. D., L. D., and the book has been written with the encouragement, approbation and blessing of His Holiness the Pope. Dr. O'Reilly's name is a sufficient guarantee that the work will be worthy of the patronage of all who wish to have a well written and documentary biography of the Holy Father.

"The Great Cryptogram," by Ignatius Donnelly has been a subject of much discussion and speculation in both hemispheres and the curiosity of scholars has been aroused to the highest pitch. It will have an enormous sale. The author asserts that he has found in the so-called Shakespeare Plays a cipher story, curiously unfolded in the text, holding a certain uniform relation to the paging of the great folio of 1,623, and the beginning and end of acts, scenes, &c.

Major Downie will solicit subscribers for both books and we have no doubt will meet with great success.

Creme de la Creme Cigars. A. H. Gray & Co., Agents.

FROM THE NORTH.

More Trouble at Metlakahtla—Stealing a Church.

Mr. Geo. Williscroft's steamer Nell arrived from Fort Simpson this morning with a cargo of Skidegate oil for the Skidegate Oil Company. The steamer called at Metlakahtla, where another outrage was being perpetrated by the Indians from Turner's "land of the brave and the home of the free." A number of Mr. Duncan's Indians arrived at Metlakahtla a few days ago and proceeded to remove the splendid church. Bishop Ridley immediately took a canoe for Fort Simpson to lay the matter before Judge Wooton. On his return, in company with the judge and police officer Anderson, he discovered that the windows were taken out of the church and the work of removing the interior wood work was in progress. The Indians decamped when the officers of the law appeared, and after a systematic search the windows were discovered in Mr. Duncan's cannery. No arrests were made. This church is the largest in the province. It is said to be a splendid building and was built by the Indians. The windows were imported from England.

The steamer passed twenty canoes filled with Indians returning from the hop-fields. They were beyond Seymour Narrows and were sailing in company, not having met the Indians who were supposed to be in ambush in that locality.

Mr. Williscroft and Mr. Mulcay arrived on the Nell. The latter has been prospecting on Queen Charlotte Island and brings a number of specimens.

The steamer will leave for the west coast on Monday evening.

A Mammoth Concern.

Mr. Hugh McCulloch, of the firm of Messrs. Goldie & McCulloch, of world-wide fame, Galt, Ont., is in the city on a flying visit. He proposes returning east in the morning. Under the management of the present firm, which has been in existence for over a quarter of a century, their establishment has attained to mammoth proportions, it being by every odds the most extensive manufacturing concern in Canada. Here is manufactured every class of machinery and motive power. Saw and grist mills, woollen and other factories are contracted for. No establishment, however extensive, is so large that its erection and completion cannot be undertaken by this firm, both of whom are practical men and devote themselves to the business, supervising it in its minutest details; hence the great success which has attended them during the last twenty-five years. This is Mr. McCulloch's first visit to this part of the Pacific Coast. He took a drive through the Spallumcheen country, with which he is greatly charmed. He was present at the starting of the fine mill built by his firm at Enderby for Messrs. Rosbdall & Lawes. Mr. McCulloch reports business in their line as encouraging, their orders being many months ahead of them, and the huge establishment run to its full capacity. They are now filling orders for steam engines, boilers, machinery and safes from all parts of the civilized globe. With the public, as well as their employees, Mr. McCulloch and his partner, Mr. Goldie, are extremely popular.

Nanaimo Relief Fund.

A meeting of the officers of the Nanaimo relief fund was held in that city on Tuesday last. Mayor Fell was present representing Victoria subscribers. The president of the committee managing the fund is the Mayor of Nanaimo, the vice-presidents being the Mayors of Victoria, Westminster and Vancouver. Mr. S. M. Robins is hon. treasurer, and Dr. Praeger hon. secretary.

The meeting was well attended. The scale of payment to widows was arranged for as follows: Monthly allowance, $12; liable to deduction of $5, if owning their dwelling houses or living in houses rent free; liable to a deduction of 4 per cent per annum on insurance or other money in the bank over and above the amount required to pay their debts (if any.)

Scale of payments to children under 5 years of age, $4 per month; above 5 and under 10, $6 per month; above 10 and under 14, $5. At age of 14 allowance ceases.

In the case of widows residing in Great Britain, or the East, two-thirds of the allowance is remitted to some responsible person for them. In the case of widows who have been sent home by the Committee, one-half of the usual allowance is retained until the fund shall be reimbursed the cost of their passages, and then they will be put on two-thirds the allowances made here. At the above rates, according to the funds now in hand, it is estimated that there is sufficient for about six years, which is about $60,000.

So well satisfied was His Worship Mayor Fell with the manner in which the funds were administered that he at once handed over to the Committee the sum subscribed in this city and paid into the City Hall.

An Important Decision.

In the case of the corporation of Victoria vs. Mrs. Haynes, Police Magistrate Johnson to-day delivered the following decision: The defendant is charged as the owner, occupier, agent or person having charge of a building, with failing to comply with the terms of a notification to pull down the building under sec. 30 of the buildings bylaw.

The bylaw is of a severe and penal character, and interferes, for the public good, with private rights. Those who invoked its powers must strictly comply with the conditions under which only they are to be exercised, and must be prepared to prove to the court to which they apply that they have so complied. In this case the informant has entirely neglected these precautions. It is not proved who is the owner, who received the rent, who occupied the building, nor who had charge of it; nor does any attempt seem to have been made to ascertain these facts. No act of ownership, agency or control was proved against the defendant; but it was assumed that she was the owner because the property was assessed in her name. It is well known that a person's name is often placed upon the city assessment roll without his knowledge. The name of a person properly assessed in the first instance is often retained on the roll, long after he has ceased to own the property assessed.

But assuming that the defendant was the proper person to be notified, it is not proved that she ever was notified. A letter addressed to her—whether correctly or not does not appear—was left in the City Messenger's office; and the Clerk thinks he posted it; but whether the postage was prepaid, or whether the defendant ever received the letter, I am not informed. In the case of McCann vs. Waterloo County Insurance Co., 34, Q. B., Ont. 376, it was held that posting a notice is not a notification in writing, unless it is proved that the notice reached the person to be notified.

I regret very much that this proceeding should fail; for it is important to prevent the perpetuation of wooden buildings within the fire-limits; but the only thing for me to do is to dismiss the charge. EDWIN JOHNSON, P. M.

Mr. Thornton Fell for the plaintiff, the Corporation of Victoria, and Mr. Theo. Davie, Q. C., for the defendant, Mrs. Haynes.

DECRYING OUR COUNTRY.

Canada Attacked in an Australian Journal—Finds an Able Defender.

A correspondent signing himself "Australian," writing from Sydney, N. S. W., to the Montreal Herald, under date of Sept. 7th, gives a very interesting perspective of the trade likely to arise between our Antipodean cousins of the Australian Colonies and Canada. He likewise refers in the following terms to an article which appeared in a recent issue of a Sydney journal, vehemently attacking and running down the Canadian Pacific Railway as well as everything Canadian. "Australian" recognizing the nom de plume of the author of the scurrilous article, says that he is still more at a loss to account for the mischievous statements therein contained. I remember meeting him, says "Australian," some seven or eight years ago at Vancouver, then Granville, the present terminus of the railroad, and certainly the hospitality he received then during a lengthy stay did not suggest that Canada was the poverty-stricken country he now ventures to make out. After laying down the law that the C. P. R. is inferior to the American route, (and I know both infinitely better than the writer of the above), after sneering at Montreal and Quebec as not to be compared to Sydney or Melbourne (another point which I deny), he goes on to say: "The poverty and ignorance of Europe drain into Canada, and the intelligent Canadians from Ontario are glad to migrate to the United States or Australia, where we are very glad to welcome them, and especially in the person of Mr. Locke Richardson. Except in Ontario, Canada is the poorest country under the British flag. The majority of the people toil hard, endure a frightful climate in the winter season, and can do little more than keep the wolf from the door. And I do not think the prospects are increasing. Most of the good land in Canada has fallen into the hands of railway companies and syndicates, and the tendency is now towards large estates, the wheat fields being ploughed and reaped by elaborate machinery, with as little human labor employed as possible. With all the advantages of being within a week's steam of Great Britain, Canada is not equal to Australia and its people not so prosperous, although there are more individual millionaires, several of whom have been manufactured by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. Sir Charles Tupper, in his celebrated speeches in London, always referred to this as "the iron link connecting the British Empire." Generally he gave one the idea that beyond the seas the British Empire consisted of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and Tupper. Australia was not in it till Sir Graham Berry "wiped the eye" of Canada's High Commissioner at a banquet at the Freemason's Tavern.

MR. STENHOUSE'S RESIGNATION

Card to the Electors—He will Join the Mormon Hierarchy.

The following is Mr. A. M. Stenhouse's card to the electors announcing his resignation as representative for Comox:

GENTLEMEN—Within the last few weeks I have been called to the ranks of an afflicted Hierarchy, whose warfare is against vice, and whose credentials are attested by much patience in tribulation. I am therefore obliged, with sincere regret, to resign the high trust which you have reposed in me.

I shall have abundant consolation, however, if I am enabled in the meantime to aid in the return of a representative of broad and enlightened views on the road and railway policy and general administration of the country.

The question of railway extension to Comox, as an act of justice, is now clearly before the country. This is the natural outcome of your assertion at the polls of the main principle which I embodied.

I note with satisfaction that the current expenditure for all purposes in our District is fully up to the average of former years; but in view of the continued expansion of our road system, a further appropriation is much to be desired.

The interests of the Islanders of Denman and Hornby have been to me a matter of anxious solicitude, and will, as I hope, engage the earnest attention of my successor.

Though you have ceased to be my constituents, the ties of friendship have not been severed. From no great distance in the south I shall watch your progress, and I invoke the blessing of Heaven upon your destinies.

ON THE WING.

Movements of People We Know and have Read of.

Mr. H. E. Perley, C. E., of Public Works Department, left for home this morning.

Col. James Baker, M. P. P., for Kootenay, was registered at the Russell, Ottawa, last week.

Captain McCallum is in the city today. He came down yesterday evening from Cowichan.

Hon. Messrs. Carling and Thomas White accompanied the Hon. John Robson in a drive to the experimental farm, Ottawa, last week.

The Hon. Stephen Richards, Q. C., Mrs. and the Misses Richards, of Toronto, are guests at Mapleburst, Blanchard avenue.

The Hon. Edward Blake sailed for Europe last week and will be absent for some time. The hon. gentleman, though looking better than he did a few months ago, has not been restored to his wonted health and vigor.

Mr. R. H. Ward and bride arrived from the east last night, and were met at the wharf by a number of friends who extended a cordial welcome to the young bride to the Pacific Coast, and congratulations to the happy young couple.

Mr. J. J. Fanning, of Winnipeg, one of the best known and most popular travellers in Manitoba and the Northwest is at the Oriental. He represents the wholesale clothing firm of Messrs. Jas. O'Brien & Co., of Montreal, and is here on a pleasure trip.

DIVISIONAL COURT.

[Before Hon. Justices Crease and Walkem.]

J. R. Adams vs. E. B. Marvin—This was an appeal from the judgment of Mr. Justice Gray, dismissing plaintiff's application to compel defendant to answer certain interrogatories.

Mr. S. P. Mills contended that the judgment of Mr. Justice Gray proceeded mainly on the ground that the transaction between the plaintiff and defendant was contrary to public policy, but the defendant had never raised such a defence, but on the contrary that a portion of the property was transferred to him for money due and owing by plaintiff to him.

Mr. Pooley, for defendant, contended that plaintiff was not entitled to further answer.

Judgment reserved.

POLICE COURT.

(Before Edwin Johnson, Q. C. S. M.)

His Honor rendered a decision this morning in the case of the Corporation versus Edith Haynes. Judgment was given in favor of the defendant.

Mr. Gwyn, on behalf of Mrs. Haynes, applied for costs which was not allowed by the court.

ALBERNI NEWS.

Substantial Progress Being Made—Henry Saunders' New Store—General News.

Mr. E. D. Falwell, of Alberni, is in the city on a brief visit and from him we gather the following particulars regarding the progress the Alberni settlement is making. Mr. Henry Saunders' store at Alberni landing is about completed. The building is 50x34 and two story high with a full-sized attic. In a few days the store will be in full blast. It will prove a great boon and convenience to the settlers. It is Mr. Saunders' intention to erect a commodious substantial wharf in front of his store, and to erect thereon a large warehouse.

Mr. Pinkerton is pushing on with commendable energy the completion of the bridges, so as to have them ready for traffic before the rainy season sets in.

The establishment of a regular monthly steamship service to and from Victoria will be of great advantage to the settlers as they can send their products to market and be able to lay in supplies at about their cost in Victoria. A considerable trade is certain to spring up between Alberni and Victoria, mutually advantageous to both places.

There are now over 100 settlers in the locality, some of whom are married and the heads of families.

There are a large number of young men here who are longing for the companionship of a help mate. Alberni is a veritable paradise for marriageable young women. Several dozen could pick up a husband at sight the very day of their arrival. In the east where there are a large preponderence of females over males, and where it is certain some will die after having reached a questionable age in single blessedness, here would find a suitable husband. If the women were willing the man would be doubly so, and a matrimonial alliance almost as certain as the rising of the sun.

A lively time is expected over the election of a school trustee in place of Mr. Armand, who lately resigned. Several persons are well qualified for the position; but few take any interest in that body.

The road to Nanaimo is now in pretty fair condition. Lately four buggies were driven over it, namely that of Mr. Thompson, M. P. P., Bray, Peck and Chief of Police Stewart, of Vancouver.

Mr. McMillan packed 900 bbls of salmon last summer a short distance south of Alberni.

The Indians from the hop fields are returning in great numbers. Usually these are a quiet sober class. This fall they have been somewhat demonstrative, requiring the presence of Agent Gilliard to quell them. He had not reached Alberni when Mr. Falwell left.

The appointment of Mr. Huff as a Justice of the Peace is regarded as a satisfactory one.

The crops this year as a general rule were good, some being very heavy whilst others were light as compared with former seasons.

Mr. Mollett has had the burned portion of the Nanaimo road repaired and the holes filled in and levelled up. The same gentleman also advertised for tenders for the construction of a road in the neighborhood of the Littles and the Beaver crossings. When completed this road will be of great advantage to the settlers in that neighborhood.

Golden News.

J. C. Hays has returned from a trip east.

Seven applications were made out last week for homestead entries by intending settlers.

Nearly all of the supplies for the mounted police have been forwarded to Bummer's Flats, Kootenay.

Potatoes weighing upwards of three pounds each have been grown this season at Moberly house by Wm. Barkar, an old Crimean soldier.

Boulanger's surveying outfit broke camp last Thursday and left for Moberly, where they will be engaged surveying lands for the balance of October.

The steamers Cline and Duchess have ceased making trips and are tied up, as the water of the Columbia is too low to admit of their passage over Canyon creek rapids and the salmon beds.

Mr. Conkwright having returned from the Pence River country, has been endeavoring to locate a coal seam which he found years ago in the immediate vicinity of Golden. So far his efforts have proved fruitless. We also know where a coal seam can be found, and perhaps could give the old man a pointer about his lost mine.
